

Camp Wing

This pond is part of the 354 acres of Camp Wing land off Keene Street and is part of the headwaters of the South River. Duxbury selectmen recently voted unanimously to execute and sign a purchase and sales agreement with Crossroads for Kids, Inc. to buy this land in northwest Duxbury for 1.56 million. Voters will be asked to approve this purchase at a special town meeting on Monday, June 1 at 7:30 pm in the DHS auditorium.

Looking across the Camp Wing wetlands one can hear and see nature at work. Bird calls and otter trails are in evidence. Conservation administrator Joe Grady commented that a wetland area such as this is "like a huge sponge provided by mother nature -- and the best flood control available."
